

Author, Keisha Brown, is a dynamic, inspirational speaker and loves to encourage people to grow into their purpose. Keisha currently serves as an Elder at COHSS NJ and enjoys praise and worship. Elder Keisha is also a prophetic praise dancer. She has written and produced several stage plays, including: "Hear My Cry," "The Well," "Stolen Dreams," and "Girl Get Your Power Back!"

Elder Keisha loves to spend time with her family and host women's conferences. She loves to inspire, encourage and empower those who find themselves stuck in their past. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Social Science and holds a master's degree in Healthcare Administration.

Elder Keisha has a passion for helping those who are broken, rejected, and wounded. The ministry is designed to enhance individuals by offering empowerment sessions and one-on-one inspiration sessions. She would love to stand in agreement with you concerning your prayers. If you would like to submit a prayer request, feel free to send your prayer request.